The Paxen Group Teams Up to Renovate Classrooms for Kids

Kapolei, HI — The Paxen Group, a leader in customized educational programs and delivery, has joined with local community resources to build classroom cubicles for the About Face and Forward March programs. Located at Barber's Point, these programs offer both youth and adults lasting life and employability skills.

Partners in this community service effort include the Hawaii National Guard, the Building Industry Association (BIA), the Construction Training Center (CTC) of the Pacific, and their partner HASEKO. "CTC is proud to be partnering with the Paxen Group who continuously give back to the community by helping individuals make a better life for themselves and their families." states Barbara Nishikawa, Coordinator for the Pre-Apprenticeship Construction Training (PACT) program for the Construction Training Center (CTC) of the Pacific.

The group effort will benefit both staff and participants of the programs by providing a more efficient learning environment for better classroom delivery.

For more information on either of these programs contact Pam Ellison, Senior Training Manager, at pellison@paxen.com. For further information on the PACT program and CTC, please contact Barbara Nishikawa, PACT Coordinator, at pact@constructiontraining.org.

The Paxen Group is a recognized leader in the creation, training and delivery of learning materials and custom programs. Headquartered in Melbourne, Florida our published curriculum, comprehensive training methods and turnkey delivery provide individuals with the tools they need in order to build lasting academic, job and life skills.
